

Become a partner of GreenBuzz Berlin e.V.!

We are an inspiring network of 3.000+ sustainability enthusiasts including young professionals, entrepreneurs, students and other likeminded people living in Berlin. Our vision is a sustainable world where everybody thrives and contributes to continuous and sustainable improvements of the status quo. We connect people, provide educational information as well as events, and conduct research to support and facilitate collaborative actions.

What's the point?

We are proud of our active network of future-oriented people who strive for a meaningful contribution to society. To increase the community's impact, we would love to share our network with you – and vice versa – in order to realize our vision and make a better world, faster. Simultaneously, we want to promote you and your organization and raise awareness for your activities. As our partner, we offer you access to...

- ✓ a unique audience: Easily promote your sustainable products and services. Find brilliant and engaged minds to boost your cause to the next level. Get valuable face time with an interested and diverse audience at our events attracting more than 100 participants on a regular basis! Present yourself on our website and in our newsletter.
- ✓ a well established community: Share your news and content on our Facebook page and Twitter channel. Reach a target group of more than 3.000 active young professionals in Berlin caring about sustainability (25-35 years on average).
- ✓ key actors of Berlin's sustainability scene: Get in touch with the right players! Having built a great sustainability network in Berlin including public and private organizations, we are more than happy to put you in touch with peers that could be helpful to you. Additionally, we have a media partnership with Harvard's Sense&Sustainability.

How?

We are an easy and friendly network trying to operate as non-bureaucratic as possible. Therefore, there is no need for contracts for now. Just follow these simple steps:

- 1) Send us an e-mail stating your interest in a partnership and we will confirm our future collaboration, if we share the same values.
- 2) Tell us how you can support us. We are looking for funding, media coverage, co-organization of events and the expansion of our network. If you have other ideas how you could support us, just let us know!
- 3) Send us your logo and a short statement on what sustainability means to you - we will post it on our website making our partnership visible.

We look forward to a sustainable partnership!
